such as drainage valves, and fabrics washed to sterile standards including EN ISO 15883. Whatever solution you choose, the sums always add up, because Miele's economy is in a league of its own.

Wellington College is a British co-educational boarding and day independent school in the village of Crowthorne in Berkshire. Wellington is a registered charity and currently has just over 1000 pupils aged between 13 and 18.

In 2011, Wellington College approached Miele Professional through an existing relationship with James Holmes at SLS, and it was soon discovered that Miele's products suited the College's needs better than the existing machines. Not only that, but the service offered by the German brand was exactly what the College had been looking for.

“The best thing about deciding to go with Miele machines is the ease of use, the programmes available for your every whim and the overall quality and speed of the machines. We would definitely recommend Miele professional. If we ever need parts for the machines we know we can get these easily, we receive excellent service and have great quality machines. I couldn't fault them.”

Miele Professional is at the forefront of innovation and customer service is always the priority. Whether it's saving on energy bills or fitting machines into an awkward space, the German brand has expertise and advice to help with all requirements.
